A Tradition of Excellence: Thomas Edison State College

Thomas Edison State College, one of America's preeminent educational institutions, provides flexible, high-quality, collegiate learning opportunities for self-directed adults. Cited as "one of the brighter stars of higher learning" by The New York Times and one of the top 20 colleges and universities in the nation in the use of technology to create learning opportunities for adults by Forbes magazine, Thomas Edison State College enables adults to build on their past achievements as a bridge to their future success.

The College offers the highest quality education to adults who have the inspiration, self-discipline and energy to complete a college degree despite the many conflicting demands of career, family and community. Founded in 1972, this world-renowned institution offers associate, bachelor's and master's degrees in more than 100 areas of study. Thomas Edison State College provides adults from every state in the United States and more than 70 countries throughout the world with a wide variety of ways to complete a quality degree.

Thomas Edison State College pioneered the award of college credit for knowledge obtained in noncollegiate environments through its prior learning assessment (PLA) programs; lead in the development of taking college courses at a distance through the use of technology and is one of the nation's leading providers of worldwide education for the members of the United States military. As an innovation leader in higher education, it is developing new programs utilizing multiple mobile learning devices and 21st century assessment methods. The College, its leadership and programs are a tribute to its illustrious history. The College's Kelsey Building is recognized as one of the most important visual landmarks of the Trenton, N.J., State House Historic District, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Originally built by Henry Cooper Kelsey, a banker and politician with an appreciation for the arts, the Kelsey Building is a memorial to his wife, Prudence Townsend Kelsey, who died in 1904. The building was dedicated in 1911 as the School for Industrial Arts. In 1979, when Thomas Edison State College was looking to move from office space it had outgrown in the Forrestal Center outside of Princeton, N.J., the state was looking for an appropriate tenant for the landmark Kelsey Building, while the city sought to preserve the building's historic use as a school. All three concerns were brought together when state Senate President Joseph P. Merlino persuaded Gov. Brendan T. Byrne that, along with five adjoining townhouses, the Kelsey Building was ideal for College expansion.

Today, Thomas Edison State College's presence has expanded throughout the capital city. The College's campus comprises the Kelsey Building at 101 W. State St., and the five restored 19th-century townhouses adjacent to the Kelsey Building; the Academic Center at 167 W. Hanover St.; the Kuser Mansion (home of The John S. Watson Institute for Public Policy) at 315 W. State St.; and the newest addition, the Canal Banks Building at 221 W. Hanover St.

Thomas Edison State College, however, is not contained by bricks and mortar. The College's reach is felt by all those who strive to create a better future for themselves and for their communities. In the true spirit of inspiration and innovation, Thomas Edison State College will continue to reinvent the future of higher education.

The staff of the College wishes to thank Princeton Pro Musica, Ryan James Brandau, conductor; and Kevin O'Malia, organist, for the musical presentations during the ceremony. The staff of the College also wishes to thank the Trenton Central High School Junior ROTC.

Arnold Fletcher Award

The Arnold Fletcher Award recognizes Thomas Edison State College bachelor's degree graduates for exceptional achievement in nontraditional learning. Students selected for this award have demonstrated excellence and have earned a large number of credits using one or more of the innovative learning modes recognized by the College.

The award is named in honor of Dr. Arnold Fletcher, vice president for Academic Affairs from 1973-1983.

Graduates wearing the gold double honor cords are the Arnold Fletcher Award recipients.

Alpha Sigma Lambda National Honor Society

Alpha Sigma Lambda National Honor Society was founded in 1945 to recognize adult students in higher education who have achieved academic excellence while fulfilling the many responsibilities of family, work and community services. The Thomas Edison State College Lambda Tau Chapter was established in 1996.

Graduates wearing the garnet and gold honor cords are the Alpha Sigma Lambda Honor recipients.

Kappa Delta Pi International Honor Society

Kappa Delta Pi, the International Honor Society in Education, is an honor society recognizing the academic achievements and professional accomplishments of educators worldwide. Kappa Delta Pi is one of the largest and most prestigious educational honor societies in the world. With more than 500 active chapters, Kappa Delta Pi is dedicated to the ideals of fidelity to humanity, service, science and toil. As part of its goal, KDP recognizes scholarship and enhances the professional development of its members. The Thomas Edison State College Alpha Zeta Epsilon chapter was established in 2010.

Graduates wearing the violet and jade honor cords are the Kappa Delta Pi Honor recipients.

Sigma Beta Delta International Honor Society

The Sigma Beta Delta International Honor Society recognizes scholarship and achievement among students of business, management and administration. The creation of Sigma Beta Delta follows a 200-year tradition of honoring scholastic achievement in higher education. The Thomas Edison State College Chapter was established in 2009.

Graduates wearing the green and gold cords are the Sigma Beta Delta International Honor Society recipients.

The Honor Society of Nursing, Sigma Theta Tau International

The Honor Society of Nursing, Sigma Theta Tau International was founded in 1922. Its purposes are to recognize superior academic achievement and the development of leadership qualities; to foster high professional standards; to encourage creative work; and to strengthen commitment to the ideals and purposes of the nursing profession. The Upsilon Rho Chapter at Thomas Edison State College was chartered in 2008.

Graduates wearing the purple and white honor cords are the Honor Society of Nursing recipients.

Academic Heraldry: The Symbols of Learning

While the current code concerning the types of academic regalia to be used by colleges in the United States dates from 1959, distinctive academic dress dates from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. The college or university commencement procession today is a pageant, alive and bright with dress and ceremony derived from the tradition of the oldest universities.

Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages — in Bologna and Paris, Oxford and Cambridge, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Louvain — first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, where the bachelor was the apprentice of the master, and the dress was color-coded and patterned according to the academic level and discipline. In the hierarchy of the academic world, the associate's degree is the modern entry point. Its equivalent in the guild of teachers was that of a junior apprentice. Twelfth-century records of Oxford University state this justification for academic dress: "It is honorable and in accordance with reason that clerks to whom God has given an advantage of the lay folk in their adornments within, should likewise differ from the lay folk outwardly in dress."

There are three principal features of academic dress: the gown, the cap and the hood. Their design and heraldry were, from as early as the eleventh and twelfth centuries in the great European universities, the outward sign of the bringing together of students and privileged persons under the same discipline.

To preserve their dignity and meaning, it early became necessary for these universities to set rules for academic dress. American universities agreed on a system in 1895 and set up a suitable code of academic dress for the colleges and universities of the United States. In 1932, and again in 1959, the American Council on Education revised the code that, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today.

THE GOWN. The flowing gown comes from the twelfth century. Many think it was worn in olden times as protection against the cold of unheated buildings. It has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. The associate's degree gown is grey. The gown is black for all degrees above the associate's, with pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree; oblong sleeves for the master's degree; and bell-shaped sleeves for the doctor's degree. For the bachelor's and master's degree, the gown has no trimmings. For the doctor's degree, it is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains. More recently, the official colors of Thomas Edison State College, burgundy and cream, have been used in the gown and its decorations.

THE CAP. When Roman law freed a slave, he won the privilege of wearing a cap. Thus, the academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book, although some authorities claim that the mortar board is the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. The color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The associate's cap is grey. Caps for master's and doctor's degrees are often black, but may appear in other colors, as well, depending on the rest of the regalia.

THE HOOD. Almost all of the students and faculty in the medieval universities were clerics (minor church ecclesiastics) and were tonsured (i.e., had shaved heads), and the hood served to cover the shaved head from the cold of unheated buildings. Eventually, the hood was superseded by the skull cap and evolved into a headdress more or less like those in use today. Heraldically, the hood is an inverted shield with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining of the hood designates the college or university from which the degree was granted.

THE MACE. The mace — a heavy staff or club fashioned entirely of metal with a metal head — was originally a weapon of war. In the sixteenth century, it became a ceremonial standard and a scepter of office. It resembled the original weapon and was carried before officials at ceremonial occasions. A mace is still in use in the British House of Commons, where it lies upon the table before the speaker as a symbol of the authority of the House.

The mace of Thomas Edison State College was designed by the College and was inaugurated as the scepter of office at the October 1990 Commencement ceremony. It is a solid maple scepter with a two-sided medallion mounted to the head by a brass collar. There are three brass bands on the shaft, upon which the names of the College's three presidents and their terms are inscribed as follows: James Douglas Brown Jr., 1972-1978; Lorraine Rose Matusak, 1979-1982; and George A. Pruitt, 1982-present. The mace shaft and base are finished in mahogany.

Carried in the procession by the president of the Academic Council, the mace symbolizes the authority of the Office of the President.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Arthur C. Brooks, PhD

President

American Enterprise Institute

Arthur C. Brooks is a distinguished alumnus of Thomas Edison State College, having earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics in 1994. He then went on to earn a master's degree in economics and a PhD in public policy. Since 2009 he has been the president of the American Enterprise Institute, a nonpartisan public policy think tank in Washington, D.C. The American Enterprise Institute is committed to expanding liberty, increasing individual opportunity and strengthening free enterprise.

Before taking his current position, Brooks was the Louis Battle Professor of Business and Government at Syracuse University, where he published more than 100 articles and nine books on topics ranging from philanthropy, to military operations research, to the economics of happiness. He has also worked professionally as a classical musician, playing the French horn with such ensembles as the Annapolis Brass Quartet and the City Orchestra of Barcelona.

Brooks is a staunch supporter of, and advocate for, Thomas Edison State College. He is an outstanding model for our students and alumni, and his academic and professional accomplishments are in keeping with the best spirit of what our College stands for.

Star Spangled Banner

By Francis Scott Key

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light

What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?

Whose broad stripes and bright stars thru the perilous fight,

O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?

And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,

Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.

Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave

O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Thomas Edison State College ~ Alma Mater
